

Midterm I Exam Announcement

Date: October 29 (Friday), 2021 (Taiwan time)

Time: 2:20pm-5:20pm (Taiwan time)

Place: Take-home

Scope: Lectures covering up to October 22 (inclusive)

Rules:

1. Open Text Book, Open Class Notes, No Discussion, No Plagiarism.
2. Plagiarism will be identified by the similarity of two answers, say higher than 70%. No point is given to the question answered by the plagiarism and the plagiarized. The graded answer sheets of the plagiarism and the plagiarized will not be returned for student checking.
3. The exam questions will be posted on the course webpage at 2:00pm on October 29 (Taiwan time).
4. Students have to answer the questions in detail on the standard A4-sized NTU answer sheet (which can be downloaded from the course webpage).
5. No pencil is permitted. No point will be given if you write your answer with a pencil.
6. Students have to upload the answer sheet in the pdf format to the TA email address, r08942158@ntu.edu.tw, and copy-notified to the instructor email address, cdchung@ntu.edu.tw, before 5:40pm on October 29 (Taiwan time). Submission after 5:40pm will be rejected. No submission prior to 5:40pm will be marked as absence from the exam. Your pdf file should be named by your name (Chinese name, preferred), and clear enough for grading.
7. Except plagiarism, the graded answer sheet will be returned to you by email before November 7.
8. Online checking and discussion for your midterm I score will be held during 8:00pm-9:00pm on November 9 (Taiwan time), through the google meet, <https://meet.google.com/erx-nmcg-koe> . If you have any question on grading, you can take this chance to check with the TA. You should be noticed that this check will be done through the class google meet. You have to decide whether your graded answer be exposed to others on google meet and be responsible for this exposure.