2. Permission: Three A4-sized scriptsheets of handwritten memorandum noting formulae, principles, theorems and definitions in both sides are permitted
3. The exam questions will be emailed to you at 2:00pm on December 3 (Taiwan time).
4. Students have to answer the questions in detail on the standard A4-sized NTU answer sheet, as attached.
5. No pencil is permitted. No point will be given if you write your answer with a pencil.
6. Students have to write down the answer on-line through the google meet meet.meet.google.com/fpp-ddsh-pnp with camera turned on to display the desktop where your writing is conducted. You have to join the google meet at 2:15pm on December 3 (Taiwan time) and begin to work on your midterm right at 2:20pm and finish your writing before 5:20pm under proctor of another TA, Mr. Hale Lu.
7. Students have to submit the answer sheet in the pdf format to the TA email address, r08942158@ntu.edu.tw, and copy-notified to the instructor email address, cdchung@ntu.edu.tw, before 5:40pm on December 3 (Taiwan time). Submission after 5:40pm will be rejected. No submission prior to 5:40pm will be marked as absence from the exam. Your pdf file should be named by your name (Chinese name, preferred), and clear enough for grading.
8. Except plagiarism, the graded answer sheet will be returned to you by email before December 10. Online checking and discussion for your midterm I score will be held by TA, Ms. Ma, through a google meet at a designated time specified in the email. If you have any question on grading, you can take this chance to check with the TA.
